DEVOTIONAL & HOME GROUP STUDY

1. Under what circumstances are you most likely to be judgmental of others? What do others most commonly criticize about you?

FOR THIS WEEK

SCRIPTURE MEMORY VERSE:

MATTHEW 7:2

"For with the judgment you pronounce you will be judged, and with the measure you use it will be measured to you."

JOURNAL:

Matthew 7:1-5

"When He said 'Do not judge' in Matthew 7:1. He didn't mean for us to be naïve and lack discernment. In fact, the Lord would soon warn His listeners to 'beware of the false prophets' (7:15), which requires discernment. Likewise, 1 John 4:1 says believers are to 'test the spirits to see whether they are from God.' This requires observation, weighing facts, and drawing conclusions. Jesus' warning in the Sermon on the Mount against hypocritically judging others doesn't mean we're to support false teachers blindly or neglect our responsibility to call out genuine deception or wickedness when we see it. In fact, local churches have a responsibility to 'judge' a so-called brother or sister who claims the name of Christ but is clearly engaged in unrepentant and ongoing sin (1 Cor 5:11-13). But the calm, careful, corporate discipline of a local church is very different from the labeling and judging that occurs between individuals who are fueled by hypocritical pride. What Jesus is condemning in the Sermon on the Mount is a judgmental, negative, haughty attitude that assesses others with a suspicious spirit. People who have such an attitude are always on the hunt for faults, mistakes, or imperfections in others."

CHUCK SWINDOLL

2. Read Matthew 7:1-5. How does Jesus turn the idea of judging others upside down? Why is it foolish to judge others?

3. When is it prudent to confront others with their faults? What does it look like to evaluate people and be wise about them without being judgmental?

4. Think back over the last week or two. When did you act or think in a judgmental way about someone else? Did you share those thoughts with someone else? What was the "log" in your eye at that time?

5. How can you get more into the habit of examining your own life before criticizing others? How can you focus on asking the Holy Spirit to help you be more compassionate and nonjudgmental?

JOURNAL Matthew 7:1-5

Take some time to meditate on this passage. What is the Lord pointing out to you as you prayerfully consider His words? In what specific way can you actively seek to allow the Savior to change you?
